- Aspire to leadership roles.

Former U.S. Senator, John Ashcroft

"The Leadership Training Institute of America for Youth is a model initiative that, with the help of Scripture and sound guidance, teaches young people the tenets of good leadership and good citizenship. LTIA provides young people with opportunity, inspiration, a sense of purpose, values, principles, and the capacity to get things done."

Is LTIA fun? It is a blast! New friends, tours of national monuments, and professional training.

Is LTIA for anyone? LTIA is for everyone desiring to serve God and excel in godly leadership. It is vital training for every student preparing for the challenge of college and community leadership. It is for every believer searching for answers to give to their secular friends.

What is the cost? The student discounted tuition of $399 includes workbook, room, meals, tour of the capitol, recreation, speaker fees, and graduation awards. A Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority Pass is required for each student to attend LTIA activities. Current cost of a one-week pass may be found at www.wmata.com.

How do I apply? Register online at www.ltia.org.

How can I help LTIA and students?

Your tax deductible contribution will help students participate in quality, leadership training.

The Leadership Training Institute of America (LTIA) is a 501 (c) 3 educational organization that provides training and opportunity in leadership training and world view conflict.

Opportunity

The Leadership Training Institute of America's National conference is one of the best opportunities students have to meet and to talk to outstanding Christian leaders, scientists, governors, U.S. congressmen, and ambassadors from other countries, such as former attorney General Edwin Meese, journalist Cal Thomas, U.S. Presidential candidate Howard Phillips, and former Panama vice-president and ambassador Guillermo Ford.
